NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The interior of the church of divine paternity, where Greeley's obsequies were held, presented a sumptuously beautiful appearance. Crapés were suspended in profusion, and exquisite floral offerings were displayed having appropriate designs.

THE DESIGNS.—At the rear of the pulpit is a sheaf of wheat from Chappaqua in the form of a crown, and suspended overhead were a pen and ink. A floral wreath to the left of the pulpit bore the letter "H" in flowers, and a plough from the Tribune office.

THE THROG.—Outside the church were throngs waiting in respectful silence. The police stood in front of the church as a guard. The church was opened about half-past ten, and ladies had previously been admitted and filled the galleries.

MUSIC.—During the hour which elapsed before the arrival of the procession, strains of music were discoursed by the choir.

THE CELEBRITIES.—Among the first celebrities to arrive, were Governor Hoffman and President Grant. Rufus Conkling soon after entered, and immediately following him were Henry Wilson, Minister Washburn and Secretary Belknap, who sat at the right of the pulpit. There were also General Schurz, Lyman Trumbull, and Vice President Colfax, who took seats near the President.

THE PROCESSION.—The crowd outside extended as far as the eye could reach on either side of Fifth avenue, waiting the arrival of the procession.

At 11 o'clock the funeral procession started from Mr. Sinclair's house. Many affecting scenes took place there during the morning. Mr. Greeley's daughters were inconsolable in their grief.

THE COFFIN.—The corpse was borne by ten men. Next came the chief mourners; then the Tribune association. Next came the Herald club, and then followed in succession military and civil officers according to programme.

ENTERING THE CHURCH.—At twenty minutes past eleven the procession entered the church. The solemnity of the scene was the most impressive. The stillness was such that it seemed as though the people in the church scarcely breathed.

MEN OF PROMINENCE.—Prominently among those who slowly wound their way up the central aisle were Thurlow Weed, Wm. M. Everts, Mayor Hall; also President Grant, Postmaster General Creswell, Gen. Dix, Ex-Gov. Morgan, Gen. Sheridan, Gov. Randolph, and the committee of the Union League club.

THE CEREMONIES.—Rev. Dr. Chapin opened ceremonies by reading an appropriate selection from the scriptures.

SINGING.—Miss Clara Louise Kellogg next sang very touchingly, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," after which HENRY WARD BEECHER delivered the funeral oration. The quartette from St. Francis Xavier's church then sang, after which Dr. Chapin delivered an address.

LEAVING THE CHURCH.—The procession then started from Dr. Chapin's church, en route to Greenwood cemetery.

AN IMPOSING FUNERAL.—It is the most imposing funeral procession, both in point of numbers and representative of persons and bodies, ever witnessed in this city. The line of route down Fifth avenue to Fourteenth street, and down Broadway to South Ferry, was lined with not less than 100,000 persons. A large number of stores and public buildings were draped with mourning.

PALL BEARERS.—The following gentlemen were pall bearers: Chief Justice Chase, Senator Trumbull, Thurlow Weed, J. Chamberlain, Rev. Dr. Bright, Wm. Orton, D. W. Bruce, Sinclair Toucey, Dudley S. Gregory, H. J. Johnson, Hon. Wm. E. Davis, John E. Williams, Senator Fenton, Hon. E. Brooks, Robert Bonner, A. M. Roe, Peter

C. Baker, J. G. Lightbody, Charles Storrs and John R. Storrs.

ON THE WAY TO GREENWOOD CEMETERY.—The procession was headed by Mayor Hall, and superintendent of police on foot. Carriages were drawn three abreast, and extended four squares. President Grant, and Vice President Colfax rode in an open carriage, following close to the hearse. Shortly after three o'clock the procession reached South Ferry, foot of Wall street. After they arrived at the ferry, President Grant, and senator Will returned, and passed up Broadway to the hotel.

DENSE MASS OF PEOPLE.—There was a dense mass of people about Bowling Green, the battery and ferry house. The crowd still stood patiently waiting on the Brooklyn side. The same scenes were repeated from Union street to Fourth avenue, and down the avenue to the cemetery stretched, double lines of watchers.

AT GREENWOOD.—At Greenwood an enormous concourse had gathered, standing about the entrance gates and fringing, winding roads, and collecting about the open grave, so that the mourners, when the cortege arrived, had the greatest difficulty in following the hearse.

THE BODY DEPOSITED.—The body was deposited in Mrs. Greeley's lot. There were no ceremonies of any kind, further than the laying of the body in its last resting place. The most remarkable decorations of the church were the flowers. There was a great deal of appropriateness and personal significance in many of the devices which surrounded his bier. At the back of the pulpit, under the words "It is done," with which his life closed, was a

WREATH OF RICHES WHEAT.—A fit emblem of the rich harvest the keen sickle of death had so lately reaped. Below this was

A WREATH OF WHITE FLOWERS.—With the arms of the state of New York in purple blossoms, the gift of the common council. Still below the last, an axe and a pen were arranged in the form of a cross.

A MAGNIFICENT ARCH.—Of white flowers presented by the ladies of Dr. Chapin's congregation spanned the pulpit over the speakers head. On its white ground was wrought in crimson blossoms the lines

"I KNOW THAT MY REDEEMER LIVETH." Indeed, these words and "It is done" were repeated again and again in decorations in all sorts of devices. At the right of the pulpit stood another gift from the common council, a large stand of which the whole top was composed of the choicest flowers, roses-buds and carnations and tube roses, surrounded by a crown from some lovely blossoms.

ABOUT THE COFFIN.—Itself were arranged gifts of personal friends. The air was full of the sweet breath of flowers. They were thick under foot, which tread so reverently as they bore him away. They filled every available space with their beauty. Many significant emblems displayed at the funeral were a simple wreath of dry leaves with violets intertwined, sent by Whitelaw Reed to the Misses Greeley, with a brief expression of sympathy. The Misses Greeley with their own hands bound wreaths about the coffin.

THE GREELEY ESTATE.—New York, Dec. 4.—From an examination of Mrs. Greeley's will it appears she appointed Mr. Greeley executor and Ida Greeley executrix. She bequeathed to her husband all her pictures and statuary, and a rare and valuable collection of instruments; Ida Greeley to appropriate $100 for the purchase of some additional mementos of her affection for her husband.

In case of Mr. Greeley's dying or marrying again Mrs. Greeley's real estate was not to be sold nor the principal of her property used by either of the children without the joint consent of Ida Greeley and Judge Hart. Mrs. Greeley had a policy of life insurance on Mr. Greeley's life to the amount of $10,000 to $20,000. It is also stated that she owned some Tribune shares and various other stocks, besides the real estate.

RESPECT FOR GREELEY.—BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 4.—The flags on public and private buildings were displayed at half mast to-day in respect to the memory of Horace Greeley. The board of trade passed resolutions highly eulogistic of the founder of the Tribune.

ALBANY, Dec. 4.—The senate to-day adopted resolutions expressive of eminent services of Greeley and sympathy for the bereaved family, and then adjourned in respect to his memory during the progress of the obsequies.

THE NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE HONOR THE NAME AND MEMORY OF HORACE GREELEY.

PRESIDENT GRANT RECOGNIZES THE DEMOCRATIC LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA.

ACTION OF THE ELECTORAL COLLEGES IN DIFFERENT STATES.

TRUMBULL, FENTON, AND RICE TO LOSE THEIR CHAIRMANSHIPS.

ETC., ETC., ETC.

[Reported Especially for the Bulletin.]

AN ADDRESS.—New York, Dec. 3.—The National Democratic committee have issued the following:

HONOR OF THE NAT'L DEM. COM., NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The National Democratic committee did in July 1872 by unanimous vote for him at the late election, and millions of men in other states where we failed of success testified their appreciation of his noble character and the great service he had rendered the country, by voting our electoral ticket.

But Horace Greeley is dead, and the splendor of the political victory achieved by his opponents is now diminished by the sorrow which this sad event has cast upon the people whom he loved, and who regarded him as one of the best, truest and bravest of men. The lessons of his life and his noble character will remain impressed upon the age in which he lived. Every beat of his heart was in sympathy with humanity in its broadest form. He loved the government, he loved his fellowmen, and the labors of his whole life were to elevate the condition of mankind. No struggle for liberty, civil or religious, was made on the earth since his childhood began, with which he did not affectionately sympathize, and to which he failed to give faithful aid. Every day of his life abounded with acts of kindness, of charity, of forgiveness and of love. Not his stricken family alone, but a stricken people sorrow for the loss, which is incalculable and almost unparalleled. The National Democratic committee in behalf of the great party who achieved honor by their faithful effort to elect him to the first office in the government, will do all in their power to honor his name and memory.

WREATH OF RICHES WHEAT.—A fit emblem of the rich harvest the keen sickle of death had so lately reaped. Below this was missioner, and be passed by the house.

TO BE UNSEATED.—Efforts are likely to be renewed to unseat the three Liberal Republican chairmen of house committees, viz: Banks, Blair and Farnsworth. Both the Republican organs in this city to-day express dissatisfaction with the continuance of these gentlemen in official positions, as chairmen of committees. The Republican attributes the vote of the house Monday against accepting the resignation of Mr. Banks to the argument of Mr. Brooks and censures Republican members for following his counsel. There is warm feeling on the subject, because the action of the house is regarded as implied censure on the senate in the case of Trumbull, Sumner and others.

CAUCUS.—The Republican senatorial caucus has been postponed till to-morrow. The action of the committee of five appointed yesterday has not authentically transpired. The opinion, however, is freely expressed that Trumbull, Fenton and Rice will lose their chairmanships of their respective committees, but that the minority will have a liberal representation therein.

CONGRESSIONAL.—SENATE. WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Mr. Anthony was elected president pro tem. Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—RESOLUTIONS. Mr. Roosevelt offered a resolution instructing the committee on the District of Columbia to report the present debt of the district. In the course of the discussion Mr. Roosevelt declared his conviction that the work undertaken by the present board of public works, cannot be completed for less than $20,000,000.

Motion to refer resolution rejected by a vote of 74 to 92. The resolution was then adopted. Bills introduced and referred were as follows:

Authorizing the Washington, Cincinnati and St. Louis railroad to extend its road into the District of Columbia.

To provide for the speedy construction of a ship canal of large capacity around the falls of Niagara on the American side.

To amend an act of the 27th of May, 1872, for the abatement and repayment of taxes on distilled spirits in bond destroyed by casualty.

Mr. Platt stated the intention of the navy department was to divide the ten vessels into three classes. One class to consist of vessels of 1,600 to 1,800 tons and to carry from 12 to 14 guns; one from 1,200 to 1,500 tons with 8 or 9 guns, and one from 800 to 1,000 tons with 6 or 7 guns.

Mr. Hale advocated his amendment contrasting the merits of public and private shipyards. He warned the house that if all these vessels were built in navy yards they would cost $10,000,000, instead of $3,000,000, and contended that better vessels could be built in private shipyards, in quicker time and with far greater economy than in navy yards.

The morning hour expired, and the bill went over till to-morrow.

The house then, at 2:30 p.m., went into committee of the whole, and distributed the president's annual message among the appropriate committees.

The question of referring the subject of Postal Telegraph provoked some discussion, Mr. Wood preferring to have it referred to a select committee, and Messrs. Dawes and Beck favoring its reference to committee on appropriation, it having been before that committee last year.

Mr. Niblack, member of the appropriation committee, regarded the postal telegraph matter as one of the gravest questions before congress. It had always been to him a startling proposition, and although he was growing accustomed to it, he was still unconvinced to it, and desired to be classed as an opponent to the measure. While he favored leaving the matter with the committee on appropriations this session, he would be prepared next congress to advocate its reference either to a select committee, or some standing committee, who would have more time at its disposal than the committee on appropriations.

The matter was referred to a committee of nine, and the committee rose and the house adjourned.

FOREIGN.—STEAMSHIP LOST. LONDON, Dec. 4.—Steamship "Cresswell," from Falmouth, for Cork, was lost during the voyage. Twenty-one passengers and the crew perished.

ON A STRIKE.—LONDON, Dec. 4.—Five thousand striking stokers employed by the gas companies were summoned before the police court charged with conspiracy against the companies. Unyielding stokers will hold out till their companions discharged who caused the strike are taken back. The absence of the gas is severely felt. Theatres were compelled to omit their performances. The underground railways are in darkness. Two thousand strikers had a public parade.

HORSE DISEASE.—ST. LOUIS, Dec. 4.—The horse distemper spread somewhat to-day and a few cases are reported in the Rome Street Railroad stables and among private horses. The miasma has not yet assumed a violent form, and business has not been slightest in the least degree. The sick horses in the Transfer Company's stables here and in East St. Louis are improving.
